Blaze Destroys Padua's Sister School

St. Bonaventure Minor Seminary and High School was completely destroyed January 31 by a raging $600,000 fire. Fortunately no casualties resulted as the 169 students and the faculty made a well-ordered exodus. Fire fighting equipment from Sturtevant and neighboring towns was used in a desperate attempt to fight the blaze, but all this was to no avail.

The fire originated in the attic above the fourth floor dorms and spread rapidly throughout the building, devouring everything in its path. Only the sacred vessels, statues, and vestments located in the chapel and the school records and furnishings in the Fr. Rector's office were saved.

Fr. Theophane, Provincial of the province, was conducting a mid-year retreat when the fire broke out. Immediately after, at an emergency meeting, he announced that they planned to rebuild since the school could not be continued otherwise. Meanwhile, temporary facilities for housing and schooling the boys have been set up in the gymnasium which was untouched by the fire.

Father Claude's Feastday

Although Father Claude's feastday fell on February 15, Ash Wednesday, it was appropriately celebrated on the following day.

As usual, classes were suspended for the day. Besides their own personal outside activities, the students participated in a full program of intramural basketball.

The celebration of the day was highlighted by a banquet given in the evening in honor of Father Rector. It consisted of a delicious repast prepared by the Brothers after which members of the faculty delivered a few brief speeches.

The Junior class was responsible for arranging the refectory for the banquet, setting the tables, and acting as waiters.

Attracting the notice of everyone was a huge cake-model of the school prepared by Brother Vincent. The beautiful cake, a surprisingly accurate replica of the main buildings was displayed at the head of the refectory.

THIRTEEN HOURS DEVOTION

The Most Blessed Sacrament was exposed for the Thirteen Hours Devotion at Padua on Sunday, January 29 from 5:30 a. m., opening with a High Mass celebrated by Father Claude, until the closing with a Holy Hour that evening.

Besides their regular half hour of adoration and that with their individual classes, the students made their own personal visits to Our Lord.

At 7:00 and 9:00 a. m. the students' Low Mass and High Mass respectively were celebrated at the side altar.

A Holy Hour in the evening composed of a litany, procession, and solemn benediction ended the devotion. Father Gordian, assisted by Fathers Albin and Flavian, conducted the Holy Hour. During the service Father Gordian gave a talk which brought the annual Paduan retreat to a close.

Presented to Father Claude by Robert Killigrew, along with a monetary gift from the students for one of the new stained glass windows in the chapel.

With the advent of the winter season the Paduan campus has been subject to a frequently occurring snowfall. Many of the older members of the student body claim it is the largest amount of snow that has fallen since the school was founded. The abundant snowfall has facilitated an increase in the popularity of winter sports.

Due to a joint suggestion by Father Leo and Father Emil, a section of the athletic field was converted into a skating rink. A group of energetic seniors volunteered their services and were soon seen icing the selected area. The success in this project can be seen in the fact that it is frequented often by both the faculty members and the students themselves.

The Juniors, sophomores and freshmen each purchased a toboggan for their classes. The winding curves of the ski run proved suitable for a toboggan run. The golf course was another spot often used but did not prove to be as thrilling as the ski run. An ingenious group of students added a ski jump to the ski course. It gave an additional thrill and bounce to the ride. After a few trial runs it proved to be highly successful both for skiing and tobogganing.

The bobsled was repaired and put back into full scale use. Due to its size it was impossible to take down the ski run. However, the farm road proved to be a suitable substitute. It afforded a few steep hills and breathtaking curves which awarded the riders with a sense of yielding excitement. A few rides down the hill didn't tire anybody, but hauling the sled back up did. With the permission of Father Claude the Jeep was commissioned to do the hauling.

Another common winter activity is the snowball fight. A

IT'S WORTH IT!

Have you ever noticed how insignificant a pile of dust in a corner is to you? Did you ever think that one day you too would just become a pile of dust? Recall the quotation, "Thou art dust and unto dust thou shalt return?" These words are pronounced when the priest makes the sign of the cross on your forehead on Ash Wednesday. This ceremony again initiates us into the penitential season of LENT.

How many Lenten seasons have you witnessed? Now ask yourself what they have done for you—or better, what have you done during these Lenten seasons? The days of Lent are days of penance, sacrifice and mortification—all these things are meant to help you better yourself spiritually. No one can kid himself into the idea that he doesn't need spiritual improvement.

Why not make this Lenten season one that will give you this spiritual improvement. Sure—it's difficult to deny yourself something, but do it out of sacrifice and mortification, that is the true spirit of Lent, and it's not so difficult once you think of what Christ has done for us.

If you need a boost to help you make these sacrifices, penances, and mortifications—just step into the Chapel and make the Way of the Cross meditatively—then it won't look so difficult. Lent, to you then, will be a time of spiritual growth and profit.

Anything worthwhile always demands sacrifice and remember Christ's EASTER came AFTER His Passion and death.

ALL ABOARD THE CATHOLIC EXPRESS

In this era of atomic age, the boring drudgeries of yesterday become the push button operations of today. The housewife who yesterday took an entire day in doing the family wash, need only throw it into an automatic machine today, and presto, it is washed and dried. In the factory it took several men to do a single task. Now, by automaton, a single controller can do the same task in much less time. These are but two examples to illustrate the fact that progress has made work much simpler.

These modern advancements help us as they lessen the working hours and give us more time for leisure. But they also have a tendency to make us lax and careless in regard to the mind, that is we develop a "stock order" mind. We are prone to accept and believe all that we hear, read and see without much question. This would be all right if the apparent danger of absorbing wrong ideas and concepts concerning faith and morals was not present. These are too often found in the many half-truths presented in many of the publications of today. We cannot let that happen.

Here is where the Catholic Press comes in. It presents, as does the secular press, a variety of news, editorials, features, just as, if not better than, many of the secular publications. A basic difference is that they, in conformance with Catholic doctrines, interpret the news so as to aid our reading in regard to our spiritual life, as well as our temporal welfare.

In the United States there are more than 30 million Catholics. In how many of these homes can one find at least one Catholic publication? We, as Catholics and as Americans, should feel it an obligation to have some literature representative of our faith and presenting a true interpretation of the news and its views.

The month of February is over, but we cannot forget the Catholic Press. Subscribe to Catholic publications. There is a myriad of Catholic publications in practically every field of writing. Investigate them and you will find more than you expected, and what's more, it'll be good wholesome reading.

Spiritual Retreat

In preparation for the second semester, a spiritual retreat was held at Padua. The retreat master was Father Gordian Strykowski, O.F.M., who conducted the semestral spiritual exercises extending from the 25th to the 27th of January.

The formal commencement of the retreat took place on Wednesday evening with an introductory conference by Father Gordian. At this preliminary conference, Father stressed the importance of making a good retreat and also the necessity of silence during the entire period.

On Thursday, the first full day's activities began with the students attending Holy Mass. The first conference was dedicated to the subject of death. Father explained the proper attitude that we as Catholics should have towards death. The next three conferences were devoted towards chastity and the worldly impediments facing the chaste youth of today.

On Friday, the first two conferences were devoted to the proper explanation of the respect we should show to our superiors. He specifically pointed out parents and school authorities as notable examples due this respect. The remaining two conferences contained a review of the ten commandments in preparation for a general confession. The students were encouraged to devote their spare time to reading and meditation. In between conferences the library was open and the students were able to obtain various pertinent retreat books and pamphlets. Stations of the Cross were held and the Rosary recited. Each day the recollections concluded with retreat devotions.

Father Gordian emphasized reformed . . . we wonder why?

Father Gordian conducting the Retreat

his approval of the manner in which the retreat had been kept by the greater percentage of the students. As a fitting conclusion to the retreat, the retreat master administered the Papal Blessing. The retreat proved to be highly successful, both for the student body and for Father Gordian. It was capably conducted and earnestly received.

Cascaders Bounce Back in 2nd half of Basketball Season

PADUA SWAMPS ODESSA

The Cascaders started off the new year on the right foot as they rolled over Odessa 75-38. Ed Opiola paced the Cascaders to a 32-20 halftime margin by an amazing scoring spree in which he scored fifteen of the first seventeen points. After building a sizeable lead, Coach Bob Wendland began to substitute midway in the third period but this didn't stop the Cascaders.

Opiola, after sitting out most of the third quarter, came through with thirteen points in the final period to finish the night with 34 thus breaking Czajkowski's old school record of twenty-eight.

WAVERLY DUMPED BY PADUA

Playing their finest game of the season, the Cascaders literally stunned Waverly and walked away with a 87-70 verdict. Killigrew, Perzanowski and Opiola played spectacular ball as they spearheaded the Cascader attack.

Waverly was able to grab a 19-16 lead in the first quarter, but the fact that Ron Mastellar was held to one basket in the first half prevented further disaster. In the second period Padua took over and had a 37-34 half time lead. Both teams were in bad shape at this point since key men had 3 or 4 personal fouls. The Padua Quintet was fortunate to go through the third period without losing anyone and they were able to gain a five point margin going into the final period. The Cascaders broke the game wide open midway in the final quarter and continued to pull away.

OWEGO DOWNS PADUA

The Cascaders met their nemesis on the road again as they lost a tough 69-65 verdict. Both teams matched baskets during the first half with Padua leading at the intermission 35-33. The Cascaders continued to play good ball during the third period and built their lead as high as seven points. With six minutes to go the Paduans were leading 58-50 but the attack completely collapsed and Owego rallied for the victory. Padua's Opiola and Root of Owego each had twenty while Klos had 18.

PADUA DUMPS LAKEMONT

A red hot Lakemont team surprised the Cascaders for one-half of the game but they finally tired and Padua chalked up a 68-46 victory. Ed Opiola led Padua with 20 while Fuller paced Lakemont with 24.

CASCADERS ROCK ODESSA

The high flying Padua Cascaders grabbed a quick 7-0 lead and coasted to a 69-58 victory over Odessa. Padua scored well against the 2-1-2 defense offered by Odessa and had a sizeable lead when Coach Wendland inserted his second string. They did a creditable job on offense although they were considerably weaker on defense. At the outset of the last period the first stringers reentered the game momentarily but were not able to increase the lead.

Ed Opiola had 20 for Padua while Johnson had 18 for Odessa.

PADUA ROUTS CRUSADERS

Paced by Ed Opiola and John Klos, who had 31 and 15 respectively, the Padua Cascaders evened their season's record a 5-5 with a 73-57 victory over Notre Dame. The Elmira club dominated play in the first quarter and pulled ahead 15-11. Padua came back strong in the second quarter to forge in front 29-27 at halftime. Both teams matched baskets in the third period and Padua held on to its two point margin. Ed Opiola broke the game wide open at the start of the last quarter with four straight baskets, and the Cascaders continued to pull away. Jack Beck and Dick Crossed were largely responsible for keeping Notre Dame in the game as they tallied 23 and 21 respectively.

PADUA AVENGES CORNING DEFEAT

Playing one of their better games of the season Padua handed C.F.A. their second defeat of the season 51-42. It was a good defensive battle all the way as Padua's tight 1-3-1 gave Corning plenty of trouble. The Cascaders were headed only once as they held Corning's big guns, Bob English and Ray Barber to 11 and 9 respectively. The game was closely contested all the way but had quarter leads of 15-11, 28-25, and 36-33. It wasn't until midway in the last period that the Cascaders finally put the game on ice. The Cascaders were paced by Opiola and Klos with 20 and 16 respectively.

CASCADERS VICTORIOUS OVER LAKEMONT

After two impressive victories the Cascaders continued to roll as they defeated Lakemont for their first road victory of the season, 65-27. Padua had little trouble with the Lakemont club. The subs took over after the first string built a 35-12 half-time lead.

Hard fighting Walt Ranus led Padua with 14 but Lakemont's Fuller took individual honors with 19.

PADUA CONQUERS RIVALS

The potent Cascaders scored their sixth consecutive victory over their arch rivals, Watkins High 77-67. The game seemed to have been broken wide open in the second period when the Padua five had a 28-8 lead. The Cascaders' second five entered the game at this point and held on to 44-21 and 60-42 leads at the half and third quarter respectively. The scrappy and hard fighting Senecas found new life when Padua's first team reentered the contest in the fourth period and narrowed the gap to 64-59 with 4½ minutes to go. Perzanowski and Killigrew promptly netted a pair of free throws each to finally crush the Senecas' hopes.

Ciprich of Watkins stole the individual limelight with 27 while Opiola and Campbell had 19 and 17 respectively for the victors.

WAVERLY TURNS BACK PADUA

High scoring Ron Masteller led Waverly to a 73-57 victory with a splendid 37 point performance. Neither a man to man nor a 1-3-1 zone defense could stop the tall and classy Waverly club although the Cascaders stayed in contention until the last four minutes of the game.

Off to a slow start, the Cascaders found themselves on the short end of a 28-10 margin early in the second quarter, but the rallying Padua five narrowed the difference to seven points at the half time. During the remainder of the game the Cascaders continued to fight an uphill battle until Waverly put the game on ice mid-way in the last period.

Ed Opiola highlighted the Cascaders offensively with timely one handers and finished the evening with twenty points. Right behind him were Killigrew and Klos with 16 and 10 respectively.

HORSEHEADS UPSET BY PADUA

The red hot Padua club left little to be desired as they whipped a highly rated Horseheads team 69-45. A fine 1-3-1 defense kept Horseheads' offense bottled up while the Cascaders wasted little time solving the loose man to man style employed by Horseheads.

Everyone was surprised when the scoreboard showed a 15-2 lead for the Cascaders after the four minutes, and the Padua five never let up. Coach Wendland employed a 2-1-2 defense effectively at the outset of the third period thus enabling the bench to see plenty of action.

Oddly enough the Paduans had only four men in the scoring column but each reached double figures.

DUNDEE NIPS PADUA

Bill Depew's two foul shots in the final fifteen seconds gave Dundee a close 60-58 decision over Padua. It was the second Dundee victory over the Cascaders this season. Seven walking violations, three in the waning moments of the game were detrimental to the Cascaders who fought an uphill battle all the way.

Dundee held 17-13 and 30-25 leads after the first and second quarters respectively. Then Opiola and Klos broke loose late in the third quarter to even the count at the end of the period at 45-45. The Cascaders then forged ahead for the first time and held a five point lead with three minutes to go. Dundee knotted the count with 45 seconds left, but Opiola came back with a drive in only to have it nullified by walking. This set the stage for Depew.

HORSEHEADS TRIPS PADUA

A red hot Horseheads team hit a phenomenal percentage of outside shots as they whipped the Cascaders 72-61. The slow footed Padua quintet offered no defense against these shots while their rebounding was below par.

The Blue Raiders dominated play for three quarters but the hard fighting Padua club rallied to tie the count with three minutes left. Then two technical fouls were called against the Cascaders and Horseheads tallied three quick baskets to ice the game.

Bob Killigrew and Ed Opiola were Padua's big guns while Durfey led the Blue Raiders.

Jayvee Notes

The loss of Nowotarski and Brozek via the foul route in the last period proved detrimental to the Cascaders as they dropped a close overtime decision to Odessa, 54-56. The Padua club dominated play throughout the game but blew a five point lead in the last 45 seconds of the game.

Poor ball handling cost the Cascaders their second straight loss as Horseheads tripped them. After a miserable first half the Cascaders settled down and knotted the count with a minute to play but Horseheads managed to come up with two quick buckets for the win, 43-45.

Lakemont offered the weakest opposition of the year as the Cascaders came up with a 47-25 victory. The first team did a fine job building a quick lead thus giving the second string a chance to play.

Owego's 1-2-2 defense caught the Cascaders off guard which gave them a 67-41 victory. Both teams matched baskets in the first period but again Padua's poor passing broke the game wide open.

After a miserable first quarter, both Notre Dame and Padua settled down to play one of the better games of the season. The Cascaders blew an early lead, but managed to hang on for a 45-41 win.

A once beaten Corning team ran over Padua with comparative ease, 56-38. Lack of height was a deciding factor since the

"SUDDEN DEATH" NIPS CRUSADERS

In the year's most dramatic game, the Padua Cascaders rallied from behind to nose out Notre Dame 78-76 in a double overtime. It wasn't until the last two minutes of the fourth period that the Cascaders were able to catch the Elmira club and force them into an overtime. Padua grabbed the tip off in the first overtime period and raced down for a score. Although the Cascaders came right back to tie the score, they soon fell behind 76-73 with 30 seconds left. A Padua foul and a bad back court pass then set the stage for the sudden death period. Both teams missed excellent opportunities to end the game until Bob Killigrew, the spark plug of the Cascader attack, dropped in two foul shots for the victory.

Again outside shots proved detrimental to the Cascaders who trailed at one time by as many as 17 points. Bob Killigrew, who compiled a total of 32 points, kept the Paduans in the game with sensational drives while Ed Opiola helped by finding the range in the last period.

Cascaders were completely out-scraped under the boards.

After trailing by as much as thirteen points mid-way in the third period the hard fighting Cascaders rallied for a 68-55 victory. Gale Trainor led the way with 24 points including some well timed baskets in the final period.

The Padua five ran over Lakemont for the second time this season, 57-40. The game followed the same pattern as the first although the Cascaders were a bit weaker on defense.

Two records were broken as the Padua club tripped Odessa 78-67. Nowotarski set a new individual mark with 27 while the team's 78 points beats the previous record of 68. The game however was close all the way but not too much defense was shown by either team.

A fired up Watkins team gave Padua a big scare before falling 67-56. The Cascaders seemed to be coasting but the Senecas tied the count with three minutes to go. Gale Trainor put in three in a row to ice the game.

THE FUTURE FRIAR PRIEST CLUB

Father Gordian Strykowski, O.F.M., moderator of the Future Friar Priest Club, called the first meeting of the school year of this unique and relatively new organization at Padua on Saturday, January 28th.

The first point on the agenda was the reading of the minutes of the previous meetings of last year's staff by the secretary, Richard Nawrot.

After this, Father Gordian unveiled the new official insignia of the club. The name of the club was officially changed from the Future Priest Club to the Future Friar Priest Club so as to include in its membership also those who are aspiring to be Brothers in the Franciscan Order.

The members of the club then considered the acceptance of all the alumni who are now in major seminaries as honorary members of the organization, and all voted in favor of it.

The election of new officers was next on the agenda. The offices of president and secretary were to be filled by Juniors, and one sophomore and freshman were to be elected as representatives of their respective classes.

Valentine Lapsanski was elected president by a large vote. Richard Passon was elected to the office of secretary, and Philip Tereskiewicz and Stephen Rudnicki were chosen as representatives for the sophomore and freshman classes respectively.

Following this, the former president, Gerald Prusakowski, was presented with a trophy in appreciation of his exemplary and faithful work.

The meeting was concluded with the acceptance of the new members.

Thespians Present Library Chatter

On the eve of Ash Wednesday, the Thespians presented, for the enjoyment of the students, "The Caine Court-Martial."

The main plot was the trial of Lt. Stephen Maryk accused of a mutinous act committed during the war in the Philippines in 1944 against his commanding officer, Lt. Com. Philip Queeg, aboard the ship U.S.S. Caine.

Leading characters include Joseph Barstys as Maryk; Ronald Maselka as Queeg; Jack Monahan as Greenwald; John Knorowski as Challee; John Klos as Blakely. Among the supporting roles were: Ted Perzanowski, Joseph Drosdowski, Thomas Kelley, Gerald Prusakowski, Edward Przybysz, and Richard Passon.

The play was produced and directed by Father Terrence.

Several new faces have been added to the library staff. Chief Librarian Joseph Piniewski, after a year and a half of faithful and dependable service relinquished his duties to a Junior, Richard Passon. Thanks are due to the former Chief Librarian from the students and the faculty for a job well done.

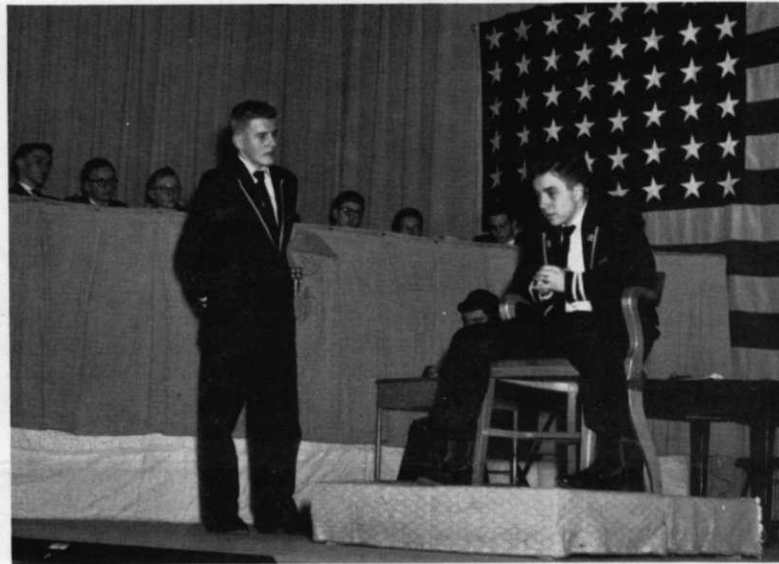

As it has been noticed by those frequenting the library, a number of popular periodicals have been bound for reading by the students. Especially popular are a number of bound volumes of the National Geographic Magazine. Other periodicals have been prepared for binding and will soon make their appearance on the library shelves.

To the library's file of pamphlets a large addition has been made. The Future Friar Priest Club has donated $100 worth of pamphlets for the students' use.

HONOR ROLL

With the tabulation of the marks for the second quarter of the school year, it has been found that the ranks of the honor roll have been increased by seven. The end of the first semester finds a Junior holding top honors, Valentine Lapsanski, with an average of 97.4.

The pleasant amusement of winter will eventually give way to the warm sun of spring. The frolickings afforded by the lively winter sports, however, will not pass away unnoticed. Some will miss their gay times. Others will be glad to get rid of the cold and biting temperatures. No matter what the feelings of the individuals may be, the winter sports will be remembered and appreciated as long as winter reigns at Padua.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

With only a half week of play remaining in the intramural season a heated race has developed in the "A" league. Only one game separates the first three teams. In the other leagues there is a different story since all the championships have apparently been decided.

In the "A" league Tulko's team was off to a splendid start with six straight wins while Waszak and Asiello trailed with 3-3 records. In the following round of play catastrophe met the Tulko outfit as they dropped three decisions to fall into a first place deadlock with Waszak. A scrappy Asiello team with a 5-4 record is also in contention.

Superior height enabled Jagodzinski's team to compile an 8-2 record and clinch the "B" division crown. Both Foss and Zajkowski were able to defeat this team in the first two outings but the latter's experience and supremacy of the boards made them insurmountable for the remainder of the season. A close race for runner-up spot has developed as Klos, Foss and Killigrew have 5-5 records.

Hampered by a slow start Zgodzinski's team made a terrific comeback to put the "C" division tilt on ice. Trainor's and Krupa's teams were pacing the league after the first round but the Zgodzinski team's 10 game winning streak ran away from all the other teams in the latter stages of the second round.

The "D" league provided the only complete run-away race as Knorowski captured top honors with a 10-1 record. Balsiewicz and Brozek were in the race for one round, but losing close decisions to weaker teams eliminated their chances.

Camping Trips

A crew of sophomores completed the first winter camp-out in the history of the Explorer Post 160 of Padua on February 16. Under the direction of Father Austin they pitched their tents at the scout camp at Twin Forks.

A few days afterward on the 22nd, a crew of Juniors also camped out on the coldest day of the year! They claimed it wasn't so cold in bed, but no one wanted to get up to build a fire.

A group of explorers from the Senior class will, on March 19, try to equal the feats of this hearty group who have dubbed themselves the "Confederates."

BASEBALL SCOOP

This year's baseball season promises to be one of the biggest ever witnessed at Padua. Fr. Emil informs us that there will be a Jay-Vee baseball team this year.

Tryouts are to be held soon for both the Varsity and Jay-Vee teams. Competition for positions will be very keen as the Varsity has lost many key men via the graduation route. Undoubtedly the competition for the Jay-Vee team will bring out the Junior Paduans in full force. The Varsity will have a full schedule of games and the formation of Jay-Vee full schedule is in the offing.

THE "CONFEDERATES" ENJOYING THEIR CAMP-OUT

YEARBOOK ACTIVITIES SPEEDED UP

With the Siquaeris fund almost attained Fr. Emil and the yearbook staff are looking ahead to many busy days to be spent working to put out the best yearbook yet.

The cover of the yearbook has gone beyond the proofing stage and some lay-outs have been formed and the next few weeks will be filled with scurried activity to put into actuality the "dream yearbook" the seniors have planned.

Write-ups and layouts seem to be the major problem to be overcome. With the full cooperation of all the seniors there is no doubt that all their ambitions will be fulfilled.
